

I run two companies whose content and clientele could not survive without the specialized and personal assistance of our local ISP, BerkshireNet. I thus feel that the current ruling, if passed, would severely limit our company's capabilities. Local businesses need local service; do not allow Verizon, and others to control the ISP market.